1624 Locust Street,
Philadelphia.

December 19. 1886

My dear Mr. Fox,

Miss Clemens has told me of your great kindness in appointing her to a clerkship in the same room with Miss Dallas and seems to be delighted at her good fortune, and is really beaming upon the new situation. I cannot refrain from saying how very much pleased I am at Miss Virginia's promotion and only hope that it may become permanent; in which case we shall not only be very glad but very grateful to you who have always been so considerate in her behalf.

Yours very sincerely

Lewis Coffin

Hon. David M. Fox.

RG104 E-1 Box 143 Dec 1886

328

Dec 19-1886.

Phila-Pa.

Lewis Coffin

Relative to

Wm. Clemens.

Read

Dec-20-1886.

NARA RG104, Entry 1, Box 143

[Abstract:] Relative to Miss Clemens.

1624 Locust Street,
Philadelphia.
December 19, 1886

My dear Mr. Fox,

Miss Clemens has told me of your great kindness in appointing her to a clerkship in the same room with Miss Dallas and seems to be delighted at her good fortune, and is really beaming upon the new situation. I cannot refrain from saying how very much pleased I am at Miss Virginia's promotion and only hope that is may become permanent, in which case we shall not only be very glad but very grateful to you who have always been so considerate in her behalf.

Yours very sincerely,
Leml. Coffin

Hon. Danial M. Fox